Closing of the Door of Mercy at Mount Argus

The Door of Mercy at Mount Argus will be officially closed at the 4.00 pm Mass today (Sunday). In our Prayer of the Faithful at Mass today, we thank God for the blessings of this Year of Mercy during which the lives of many people have been touched by the kindness and mercy of God. As this special year comes to an end, we can reflect on the words Pope Francis wrote last year at the beginning of the Year of Mercy: "Let us allow God to surprise us. He never tires of casting open the doors of his heart and of repeating that he loves us and wants to share his love with us."

November Lists

Are available on the tables at the back of the church. Lists of deceased loved ones whom you want to be remembered in November Masses can be placed in the box provided at the back of the Church at Sunday Masses; you can place them in the collection basket as the collection is taken up and the collectors will separate them from the ordinary collection, or you may hand them in at the monastery reception. The lists are placed beneath the Altar during the month of November. The evening Mass is offered every day during November for those enrolled in the November Dead List.

1916 Exhibition at the Pro-Cathedral

'Ministry, Advocacy and Compassion' is the name of a new exhibition that takes you into the heart of the Easter Rising and examines the role of the Catholic Church in 1916. Historical documents relating to the Rising will be available to view for the first time, including accounts left by priests who risked their lives while attending to the wounded and dying. The exhibition also includes an audio player whereby the visitor can listen to stories from witnesses of key events. A key part of the exhibition, the interactive touchscreen features hundreds of never-before-seen documents, all relating to the 1916 Rising, that were digitized by the Dublin Diocesan Archive and the Irish Capuchin Archives. The exhibition is open from 1.30 to 5.30 pm daily at St Kevin's Chapel in the Pro-Cathedral, 83 Marlborough Street, Dublin. Admission is free.
