Historical documents relating to the Rising will be available to view for the first time, including accounts left by priests who risked their lives while attending to the wounded and dying. The exhibition also includes an audio player whereby the visitor can listen to stories from witnesses of key events. A key part of the exhibition, the interactive touchscreen features hundreds of never-before-seen documents, all relating to the 1916 Rising, that were digitized by the Dublin Diocesan Archive and the Irish Capuchin Archives. The exhibition is open from 1.30 to 5.30 pm daily at St Kevin's Chapel in the Pro-Cathedral, 83 Marlborough Street, Dublin. Admission is free.
